

A SECOND LOOK SERIES

A Second Look at the Savior: Hearing His Voice

Release date: March 2017

All of the books in this series ultimately discuss God as a whole. Yet each of the God head has a unique personality and focus. This first book deals with hearing and understanding God's will as we apply it to our lives. Jesus came to 'show us the father'. No matter where we are in life we have questions for God. Often it seems that facts or circumstances contradict the idea of a loving and caring God. How do we deal with storms in our lives and silence from God at the same time? This book is for the seekers of God who have real questions and will prove to be an encouragement to all who read it.

A Second Look at the Father: Dwelling in His Presence

Release date: TBA

God the Father has always wanted His children in His presence. That was the design from the beginning and what he has fought for since the fall of man. Yes Jesus redeemed us and yes the Spirit dwells with us, but the emphasis has always been on getting the lost back to the Father. How does it feel to be in His presence? Is this just a 'feel good' moment that can only be grasped emotionally or can we find a cleft to grip and hold onto the Rock, Refuge, and Strong Tower which God promises to be? This book will seek to dive deeper into His Presence.

A Second Look at the Spirit: Answering His Call

Release date: TBA

This third book will focus in on the role the Spirit now plays in the great commission. Yes once again the Godhead as a whole has a role to play, but the Spirit heads this effort as He pulls on the hearts of Christians to 'go'. The book will highlight areas of personal evangelism and churches as a whole. It will spend time acknowledging how personal evangelism effects our individual relationship with God in ways we often don't consider.

And finally, it will discuss overcoming challenges that each new generation presents and acknowledging pitfalls that seem to be widespread in our approaches.

A Second Look at the Serpent: An Enemy of God

Release date: TBA

This final book will close on the common enemy we face. There are many books on spiritual warfare that are a great resource in looking at how the devil has tried to kill, steal, and destroy God's word within our lives, but why? Many make the focus of Satan's war with us, about us. I believe a closer look shows we are simply a means to an end. Satan's war is against God. It always has been. This brings up a lot of questions that revolve around why Satan would continue to fight a losing battle. This book will dive into those topics to bring many traditional lessons full circle.
